Blue or pink t-shirt with IGG logo, blue hoodie with pink IGG logo and lining, navy trousers/jeans/ tracksuit bottoms, white neckerchief with patterned blue and pink celtic knots and black woggle (strip of leather to hold neckerchief in place)

Guides follow a programme of challenges which equip them to have fun through adventure, cope with lots of different situations, enjoy the out-of-doors, practise home skills, make friends in the Guiding family.

There are 10 guide laws

1. A Guide is honest and reliable.
2. A Guide is loyal.
3. A Guide is useful and helps others.
4. A Guide is a friend to all and a sister to every other Guide.
5. A Guide is polite and considerate.
6. A Guide cares for all living things and their environment.
7. A Guide is responsible and respects authority.
8. A Guide has courage and is cheerful in difficulties.
9. A Guide makes good use of time, talents and materials.
10. A Guide respects herself and others in all she thinks, says and does.

The Guide Journey is a four year programme. Each year the Guides will earn a new Journey badge - Pathfinder, Voyager, Innovator and Trail Blazer.

In Guides there are heaps of opportunities to earn badges for your favourite pastime with lots of badges available! Activities range from camping & watersports to cool crafts and cooking.

There is a huge international dimension to being a Guide, and girls have many opportunities to go on trips abroad to various camps and events. IGG holds an international camp every five years which means that each girl should get the opportunity of attending an international event during their time as a Guide.

The Guiding programme gives the Guides an all round non-formal education and opportunity for self-development.

Guide Units work in a 'Patrol' system. Patrols are led by the Patrol Leader, along with her Assistant Patrol Leader. Leaders and APL's are elected through the Patrol Leaders' Council.
